The PARC Program Overview

The Post Adoption Resource Centers (PARC) provide support to adoptive and guardian parents. Children who were adopted or placed into a guardianship often possess a myriad of complex issues stemming from trauma experiences of being removed from their family of origin due to abuse/neglect. The PARCs provide adoption/trauma-sensitive services through education, training, advocacy, information, service coordination with community resources and case management services to promote ongoing stability as a family unit.

Eligibility Criteria

PARC serves youth twenty-one years of age and younger and their families, who were adopted from Michigan's foster care system or adopted in Michigan through an international adoption or direct consent/direct placement adoption or placed in a guardianship through Michigan's foster care system who are eligible for guardianship assistance through the MDHHS Adoption and Guardianship Assistance office.

Services

- Communication, Technology and Information Sharing - A public website with information about post adoption resources and other topics relevant to adoptive and guardianship families, a list of community agencies and resources that are located within each region, an up-to-date calendar with events and trainings, and a web-based family newsletter.
- Family Support - provides support groups, recreational experiences, mentoring and training for adoptive families. PARC facilitates monthly group events, quarterly trainings and an annual conference.
- Information Dissemination – daily telephone access for families to request general supportive services. PARC maintains a resource guide as well as brochures and other community materials.
- Case Management - short term (up to 12 months) emergency in-home interventions for families in crisis or at risk of dissolution with 24/7 assistance by phone available to the families. Limited specific assistance is also available.

Referral Process

Families are able to contact their local PARC directly or agencies may refer on their behalf (with permission from the families). Participation is voluntary and free of charge to families. Contact your local PARC today to learn more about resources and support available to you and your family.
